HOBBIES AND INTERESTS

Open source software development

- Passionate to contribute to open-source software projects. I have added the Bengali language to Monkeytype.
- Proactively identify and address bugs and issues in open-source projects, offering constructive feedback and contributing code when possible.

Learning new technologies

- A continuous learner, I dive into new technologies that pique my interest, delving deeper until I attain a comprehensive understanding and satisfaction with the knowledge acquired. Currently learning Elixir. And software design patterns.
